Wel. Brown Offered His Whole Paper and Plant on Cleveland, But the Republican Bucked Out-Cleveland Money Goes a Begging All Over Town-Ed, Kenrney's $25,000 Finds No Takers.

As an indication of the effect of the present political excitement upon newspaper men, a nents, the following is important:

Col. William A. Brown, of the Daily News offered to bet with W. J. Arkell to-day the entire plant of the Daily News against that of that Cleveland and Thurman would

Mr. Arkell pretended for a time to accept the wager, but when he found that Mr. Brown was in dead earnest he weakened and offered to compromise by betting a barrel of spples, which was accepted.

Soveral Harrison men were holding a love feast in a Ninth avenue elevated train running downtown this morning.

"Nothing can beat him," said one, mean-

Harrison. 'Cleveland has no show," remarked an-

"Cleveland has no show," remarked anticher.

"Yes, he is in the soup. Poor Grover!" said a third. And so they went on.

Finally a big man, whose quiet perusal of The Wonle, had been interrupted by their loud-voiced remarks, folded his paper angrily and talked right out.

"Now look here, if you people are so sure of Harrison's election, I'll lay bets with one or all of you at 100 to 80 from $100 up to $5,000, that Cleveland will be re-elected. Money talks, and then perhaps you people can keep still and let me finish reading about that ass Dudley. Are you game?"

There was a thick silence for a minute. Then a diminutive Republican talked back and said, "We don't know you, sir."

"My name is Bryan—Jim Bryan. I'll go direct to the Astor House with you now or meet you there at noontime."

Silence ensued again. The "Pubs" looked at one another, but finally the little man said again;

"We are not betting men."

The big man laughed heartily, other passengers smiled, while the Harrison men looked sad. Mr. Bryan would not give his address. If he was bluffing he did it well. Anyhow the Harrisonites have stopped betting. John Allen, at the Hoffman House, etill has his pile to bet on Cleveland.

Ed Kearney did not receive one call for his $25,000 or any part of it at Thirteenth street and Fourth avenue yesterday.

A thick tongued man at the Hoffman wanted to bet $10,000 on Harrison until an acquaintance asked him for $10.50 he owed for poker chips. He went away and did not return.

At the 6t. James Hotel, Jerry Mahomey bet

At the St. James Hotel, Jerry Mahoney bet $9,000 to $8,000 with an unknown on Cleveland. Col. W. S. Brown bet $1,500 to $1,200 with Obed Wheeler that Cleveland would carry Indiana; Steve French holds the stakes. Brown made the same offer regarding New Jersey, but found no takers. So it is all over the country. The betting is all in favor of Cleveland.

The Democratic National Committee Sound the Note of Victory.

The final address of the National Deme eratic Committee has been sent out and is a strong appeal to the intelligent elector to strong appeal to the intelligent elector to exercise his right of franchise in the interest of good government and a wise administration of public affairs by assisting in the election of Cleveland and Thurman.

The present contest is one characterized as one between the supporters of good government and a faction of the Republican party which has dictated the nomination of that party's candidate, and has evidenced a determination to use all sorts of disreputable means to secure his election by the coercion of voters, the corrupting use of money and the colonization of illegal voters.

Charges that President Cleveland is not an upholder of the equal right of naturalized voters are controverted by a review of his administration in this regard.

The address concludes with an appeal to all supporters of the President to work unremittingly for his election and to keep a watchful supervision of the ballot-box to prevent fraud, that President Cleveland may be re-elected "to your grest gain as toilers and to the good of the whole country."

Coroner Messemer Has Taken His Coat Off and the German Vote Is Solid for Him. Coroner Messemer, when he got to the Coroners' office this morning, was so boarse that he could not talk louder than a whisper. He has worked harder for the success of the Tammany ticket this year than when he was running himself, and has made speeches in Hugh J. Grant's favor every night.

Grant is sure of election, he said: "I never saw the Germans so strong for Tammany Hall. The whole ticket will get more than 100,000 votes.

"Sheriff Grant speaks German well. He was with me to three German fairs one evening and made eloquent addresses in the German language in each.

"If you had seen the enthusiasm with which he was received you would have no doubt about his election being assured."

A FEAR OF STOLEN VOTERS.

MRS. LEONARD IS APPREHENSIVE FOR SOME OF HER FORCES.

However, Things Are Booming at the Equa Rights Hendquarters, and a Large East Side Vote is Expected-If Elected, Mayor Cynthia Will Reward the Reporter

Everything is booming around the head quarters of Cynthia Leonard, in West Twenty-third street, and the Equal Rights party is pulling itself together for the greatat effort of its existence on next Tuesday.

The candidate for Mayor is the busiest of all the workers, and since she obtained the order from Judge Barrett, directing the election inspectors in the Thirty-fourth Election District of the Seventh Assembly District to show cause why they should not be required to permit her to vote, enthusiasm has been at fever beat.

She and her assistants sat up very late last night folding ballots and laying the plans for the fight at the polls, and when an Evening World reporter called upon her this morning she had not yet risen. He was permitted, however, to hold a conversation with her over a gorgeously decorated Japanese screen. "Yes." she replied, in an animated tone, when asked about the mandamus; "it was a great victory for us. and I have no doubt that we shall win. It will not only settle the question of my voting but also that of Miss Johnson, who registered with me in this city, and Mrs. Hancock, who registered in Brooklyn."

"Are those all the ladies who will have a right to vote in this city and Brooklyn?"

"Unfortunately, ves. But we expect to get our support from the gentlemen. Last night I went to a club uptown, of which I am a member, and distributed a lot of our ballots both for the National and State tickets, and lots of my own posters and our electors are busy all over the city. To-day we are going to supply the east side with ballots."

"Can you form any estimate as to your strength in the city?"

"No, but I can say that the outlook is very encouraging. We have already distributed 39,000 ballots, and everywhere I have received the most cordual promises of support. I expect to get a big German vote on the east side, and my chances would have been good for sweeping that district, if Mr. Jonas had not consented to run.

"The only thing that I am afraid of is that WORLD reporter called upon her this morn

"The only thing that I am afraid of is that a great many of our votes are going to be stolen. There are rumors of an organized movement against us in some districts, but we have our workers out and most of the election districts will be covered."

"Will they remain at the polls all day?"

"The most of them will, but you know we don't pay anything, and all the services rendered in our behalf are purely voluntary, and I am afraid some of our people may get tired and go away."

"How is the Belva Lockwood ticket running?"

"Splendidly, and you may be sure she will get a full vote."

"Isn't it splendid to see how all the newspaper men are with us," exclaimed one of the fair young politicians of the Equal Rights party.

"Yes, it's just too lovely," remarked another.

"They are the only men with brains in the city." said Mrs. Leonard "and if I am elected Mayor, I will appoint newspaper men to all the Commissionerships." the Commissionerships,"
